
Notice to Clients of both Raymond James and The Aranda Group

It is not necessary to mail us your Raymond James 1099's. We are in the process of downloading them, and we will forward them to your accountants along with your Gains & Losses. We will do the same with the delayed 1099's.

It seems that a few of our clients have been getting 1099's from Morgan Stanley. It is IMPORTANT that if any of our clients get these statements please do not to throw them out. Send them to us or your accountant.

We're Getting Closer to Our Move

We plan on moving March 17, 18 and 19. The construction is just about finished. It is really starting to look attractive. We will have almost 50% more space with available offices for our clients to utilize when they stop in. Our conference room is large enough to accomodate seminars, which we plan on initiating when we get settled in. We have gotten a lot of suggestions from clients which have been very helpful. Thank you so much.

I Had What I Thought Was A Really Great Idea.

Unfortunately, It Won't Work

There is a provision in the IRS Tax Code that when converting an IRA to a Roth IRA, you may change your mind and reverse the conversion. My idea (really great) was to convert to a Roth and then if the market goes down, reverse the conversion thereby not having to pay the tax on the higher amount. AND THEN CONVERT AGAIN AT THE LOWER VALUE. Good idea, however after further research, if you reverse the conversion YOU CANNOT CONVERT AGAIN until the LATER of 30 days or January 1, 2011. "Almost" a good idea!

"57 Channels and Nothing's On"

That was the title of an old song as more channels were available. Now however it ought to be changed to "500 Channels and Nothing's On."

By they way, I do not understand Curling. Olympic Ice hockey (with all NHL players) is a better game without the fighting.

"GIVEAWAY" HINT

Our contest, which started 2 Newsletters ago has not had the correct answer submitted as of this time.

So now to repeat the original question: What is the significance of the colors Blue, Green, Red, White and Yellow, with those five colors being EXACTLY in that order. (Answer is a little controversial. Just get real close.)

The first "hint" added (this is the controversy) the color "Orange" between Green and Red. Now I'm going to give away (kinda) the answer.

The top picture on the right is the prize for the first answer. It's an original pottery vase by Steven Rosenberg. (The business card is shown just for size comparison.)

The bottom picture is the hint. You have GOTTA get the answer from this. Please remember that No One in the office has the correct answer except me, so please don't leave your answer with anyone else. You can reach me 24 hours a day at 215-260-6666. This Newsletter is mailed on Friday March 5th, posted on our Web Site on Saturday night as well as displayed in our office on Monday March 8th. Good luck. Here is your hint:
